

Assisting with new federal legislation

CDPA is pleased to be working again with a number of long-standing partners to enhance the ability of people with disabilities across Canada to engage in the process of bringing new federal accessibility legislation into reality! Under the leadership of SCI Canada, the Federal Accessibility Legislation Alliance (FALA) consists of 50+ organizations representing people with disabilities, working together to:

- Increase knowledge and skills about the legislative process;
- Promote understanding of the new federal accessibility bill;
- Communicate in a coordinated way with the Government of Canada about the impact of the new legislation for disabled Canadians.
