

Comparing disability policy in Canada & USA

CDPA was honoured this month to be invited to represent a Canadian perspective on disability policy at the Northeastern Political Science Association annual meeting, held in Montreal Nov 8-10th. Mary Ann McColl joined Jennifer Erkulwater (U Richmond, VA), Andrew Jenks (U Delaware), and David Pettinicchio (U Toronto) for a panel discussion of how our respective cultures in Canada and the US have taken us in different directions as our two countries evolved a disability policy infrastructure since 1980.

Click here for more information.

